4. How we use "cookies"

Cookies are small pieces of data that are stored by your browser on your computer's hard drive, mobile phone or any other device used to access the internet. We use cookies to customize AXIA's website and improve your experience with the site. Cookies store anonymous information, such as whether you viewed the site from your mobile device, when or from which IP address. Cookies, and similar technologies are not required for site functionality. You are not required to accept any cookies to use this site. However, deciding not to accept cookies will make the use of AXIA's website more cumbersome and less accessible.

5. Sharing your personal data

Your personal data may be shared with other companies and/or employees within our Group. We may also share some of your personal data with the following categories of third parties:

- Banks for the facilitation of payments and money transfers. In order to provide financial services and in connection with our everyday business purposes and activities, we may share your personal information with banks when requested to do so in order to make or receive a payment to or from you.
- Competent local and European supervisory and judicial authorities, such as Financial Supervisory Authorities and Tax Authorities, for the purposes of ensuring legal and regulatory compliance.
- AXIA uses certain third parties (for example providers of IT services) to help us provide, improve, protect and promote our services. These third parties will access your information only if and when required to perform tasks on our behalf and in compliance with this Privacy Notice.

In addition to the parties listed above, we may disclose your personal data when it is necessary to satisfy any applicable law, regulation, legal process or governmental request.

6. Security of your data

We place high priority on the security of your personal data. We apply appropriate technical, administrative, electronic and physical safeguards to protect against foreseeable loss, unauthorized access, destruction, misuse, unauthorized modification and improper disclosure. We store all of our data on servers in secure facilities and implement systematic processes and procedures for securing and storing data. All network traffic is being monitored and filtered by a reliable Firewall system with antispam filters while data is being scanned by antivirus software with the latest definitions. We limit access to your personal and financial information to only those AXIA employees who need to know the information in order to perform their duties and we insert our best effort to ensure that third parties who perform services on behalf of AXIA also insert their best efforts to keep your information confidential.

7. Access to information – Data subject rights

Pursuant to the current legal framework on the protection of personal data, you are entitled to exercise the following rights:

- The right to access, correct or update your personal data at any time.
- The right to object to or restrict the use of your personal data, under the condition that personal data is not processed for purposes of legal compliance or contractual performance.
- In case where the processing of your personal data is based exclusively on your consent, you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time and without any detriment.
- Similarly, you are entitled to ask the erasure of your personal data, under the condition that this particular data processing is based solely on your consent. We will take all reasonable steps to make the requested changes promptly. However, you should be aware that it is not technologically possible to change or delete each and every instance of your data from our systems, and personal data may remain in non-erasable forms. We may retain personal data in our backup systems for the period defined by law, contract or auditing requirements.
- You have the right to data portability, according to which you can ask to receive your personal data so that you can transfer them to another organization. This right is granted under the reserve that data processing is based solely on your consent.
- In case where you are dissatisfied with how AXIA processes your personal data, you are entitled to contact the supervisory data protection authority.

8. Transfer of personal data to third countries/ international organisations

In the context of the Company's daily business activity, AXIA may use certain third parties located outside the European Economic Area ("E.E.A.") e.g. providers of software, research, etc. In such cases some personal data contained in clause 1 may be transferred across international borders outside the E.E.A. and AXIA takes all reasonable precautions to apply the appropriate or suitable safeguards set forth by the GDPR.

9. Updates to our Privacy Notice

Any changes we may make to our Privacy Notice in the future will be posted on our website. Such modification will become effective immediately upon posting without prior notice. Hence, we encourage you to periodically review this privacy notice to stay informed about how we are protecting the Personal data we collect.
